SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Almost four years ago, on September 2, 1946, a group of timid, inexperienced children wandered into the halls of Corinth-Holders High School as Freshmen. Then we were just "kids"; now we are the "mighty seniors" about whom people are talking.

Our high school years have been filled with work and play, responsibilities and pleasures, laughter and tears, but when the going was "tough" someone gave a helping hand.

We owe our excellent beginnings to the wise council of our principal, Mr. Freeman, and to our freshman teachers, Miss Britt, Mrs. Valentine, and Mrs. Holifield. Looking back we remember our Christmas party and other social gatherings. What fun! This was an exciting year, but we learned that there was time for studying as well as for fun.

Before anyone could say "Pocomoke" we had become Sophomores. Now, we were really getting up into Society! Our knees didn't knock any more when a Senior passed. To make our year even more successful we had Mr. Carswell as our sponsor.

When we became Juniors we began to find that Seniors weren't so ferocious. As a matter of fact we were eagerly awaiting the time that we could take the lead. Our officers were: President, Laura Wilder; Vice-President, Hester Norron; Secretary, Ruth Wheeler; and Treasurer, C. R. Johnson. Miss Lyerly, our sponsor helped with our successful Class Play, "Meet My Wives." Then with our newly acquired dignity we sponsored A Junior-Senior Banquet, the theme being "Bluebird of Happiness."

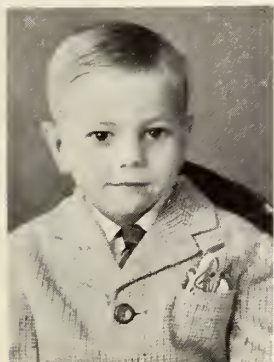

And the Victory! When we became Seniors, we needed to buy larger hats. Miss Sadler bravely accepted the honor of being our sponsor. We bestowed the office of President upon Thomas Poole; Louise Stoncil became Vice-President; and C. R. Johnson made an efficient Secretary and Treasurer. Our Senior year was a whirlwind of events. We published an Annual, The Corinthian. How happy we were when the time came for us to order our class rings. Our Senior Play was profitable and successful. Then came our wonderful trip to Washington. This trip is one that will be long remembered by each of us. Springtime came, and we were honored by the Juniors who gave us a lovely Bonquet. And then our Senior days approached an end with the preparations for our class night, The Baccalaureate Sermon, and Commencement.

Now we leave our Alma Mater in the competent hands of our successors. We trust that they will do honor to the school, our principal, our teachers, to the future generation and to us, The Alumni.

THE CLASS

CLASS PROPHECY

After ten years of married life, I decided to take a long trip with my husband and two children.

Hester Narran, editor of the New York Times, said we could use his private plane. We were surprised to see Jimmy Flowers as pilot and Sue Davis, Airline Stewardess.

Our first stop was in Chicago. As we were looking around we saw a Barber Shop owned and operated by Aaron Skinner. His chief assistant was Drexel Thomassan.

Our next stop was Kansas. I was told by Evelyn Perry, matron of the insane asylum, that two inmates had escaped and the examiner, Wallace Narran was on his way over. Policewoman, Ava Jean Hinnant sent out an alarm to be on the lookout.

When we arrived in Oklahoma, I met detective Kenneth Eason. His assignment was to find the robber who had stolen Hilda Jean Hintan's diamonds.

We stopped over in Texas to refuel and went to the rodeo show. Grady Blinsan was the main attraction. When I went in the most exclusive shop in Dallas, there was Ruth Wheeler designing a wedding gown for Betty Jean Tippet.

In Reno, Nevada I saw a hit and run driver. The woman was rushed to the hospital in the ambulance driven by Gene Wall. The interne, Graham Parrish took charge with the help of Elizabeth Narran, Dean of Nurses. The lady couldn't be saved; so they called the undertaker, Dannie Barham. As I was crossing the street I was almost hit by two fire trucks driven by Addie Williamsan and Camilla Brantley. They were going to put out a fire at Hazel Hagge's shoe store.

In California I was shocked to see Rex Renfrow, who was running for Governor, and his campaign manager Dewitt Thampson.

We left California and started back to New York where we spent the night at the Waldorf Hotel, the manager of which was Geraldine Curtis.

The next day we went to the World Fair. A leading attraction was Elsie Brinkley, the fortune teller. The next we saw was some stunts performed by the famous acrobat, Louise Stancil.

That night at the Stark Club we enjoyed listening to the music of Pauline Narran's Band and the vocalist, Barbara Nell Baykin.

Later in the week when I went to buy an evening gown, Laura Wilder and Wilma Davis were models. I then went to Evelyn Creech's Florist Shop to get a corsage.

Our next entertainment was a trip to see the Hell Drivers and to my surprise, C. R. Johnson was among the best.

We made a stop in Washington, D. C. especially to see Thomas Paale, President of the United States and his body guard, Pat O'Neal. His very efficient secretary was Jean Price.

Our next stop was in Williamsburg, Virginia where Thelma Creech and Glaria Hacutt teach at William and Mary College.

When I returned home tired from my travels, I felt that the trip had been a profitable one, for I had seen each of my classmates along the way.

CLASS POEM

Our school days now must come to a close
To our class mates we say farewell
Although we may choose varied paths in life,
Pleasant memories in our hearts will dwell.

Long will our minds recall each joy
That bound us in friendship sweet.
Long will our hearts treasure memories
Of dear friends we chanced to meet.

As we go out every hand is extended
To our teachers who have helped us along
And shown us the way when it was dark
Truly, to them, our thanks belong.

As to other scenes and cares we turn
Before us the world brightly lies.
With dewy eyes and saddened hearts
We say our last tender goodbyes.

So farewell our dear Alma Mater
The ties binding us cannot sever.
Far we know the Fates will allow us
To keep the memory of you forever.

RUTH WHEELER
Class Poet

CLASS SONG

This night we will set apart
Something to keep down deep in our hearts
This night though it means a tear
Will be a token of class ties broken.

CHORUS

Now we say goodbye to all we've known
At dear old Carinth High
Even in dreams when we have gone away
We'll remember our classmates sweet
Whisper goodbye and gently say—that in all our days to be
We will always remember
Our days at Carinth High.

This night that was saved for us
We'll always keep in our memory
This night though it means goodbye
We'll always treasure each little pleasure.

Class Song Writer

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1950, of Corinth-Holders High School, in thirty-seven individual parts, being of sound mind, do hereby make and publish this our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To the Faculty, we leave our sincere gratitude for the knowledge that we have achieved through them during our high school years.

ARTICLE II

To the Juniors, we leave our ability to select rings and the thrill of receiving a diploma.

ARTICLE III

To the Sophomores, we leave our cleverness which has brought us step by step to the top of the ladder.

ARTICLE IV

To the Freshmen, we leave our sympathy for the long unending homework with which they must contend during their high school years.

ARTICLE V

Grady Blinson bequeaths his politeness to Robert Alford.

To Orlin Wilder, Kenneth Eason wills his laziness.

Wilma Davis bequeaths her typing ability to Geneva Richardson.

Evelyn Creech wills her neatness to Mary Frances Howell and B. J. Bunn.

Jimmy Flowers wills his ability "to shoot that line of Bull" to Billy Powell.

Betty Jean Tippet wills her shyness to Dorothy Pounds.

Hester Narron bequeaths his loyalty to Clifton Price and Harold Hinton.

Louise Stancil wills her personality to Hugh Wilder and Jeanette Hinton.

Rex Renfrow bequeaths "that fast line to the girls" to Franklin Price.

Barbara Nell Boykin wills her kindness to Ruth Johnson.

Camilla Brantley leaves her friendly ways to Dorothy Price.

C. R. Johnson wills his ability to be a "wise crack" to Lloyd Tippet.

Thomas Poole wills his intelligence to Thomas Barham.

Geraldine Curtis bequeaths her unbreakable silence to Daisy Bell Creech.

Aaron Skinner wills his ability "to charm the girls" to Cramer Brown.

Drexel Thomasson leaves his big feet to Odell Atkinson.

Elizabeth Narron wills that "you can't change my mind" to Joseph Murphy.

Donnie Barham's magnetic attraction goes to Thomas Whitley.

Ruth Wheeler leaves her dependability to Dorothy Hinton.

Elsie Brinkley leaves her good nature to Clentis Phillips and Appie Worley.

Dewitt Thompson's muscles go to Talmadge Harris.

Evelyn Perry wills her remarkable knowledge of French to Louise Norris.

Hazel Hogge bequeaths her senior dignity to Annette Price.

Gloria Hocutt wills her gracefulness to Doris Cooke.

Ava Jean Hinnant wills her ability to have fun to Gladys Browning.

Jean Price wills her winning smile to Reba Poole and Virginia Skinner.

Patrick O'Neal leaves his hard head to Bobby Wall.

Thelma Creech wills her love for her classmates to Velma Eason.

Wallace Narron wills his ability to ask foolish questions to Charles Denton.

Jean Hathaway leaves her personality to Mary Lou Edwards.

Laura Wilder wills her ability to make good grades to Anna Hocutt.

Addie Williamson wills her ability to draw to Emma Jean Alford.

Gene Wall wills his "plumpness" to Ray Hocutt.

And, I, Pauline Narron, leave the hope that the seniors next year will enjoy being seniors as much as I have.

In testimony whereof, we the senior class, approve of these bequeaths to our will, and do set our seal and hands to this official document in the name of this, the 1950 Senior Class of Corinth-Holders High School.
